

Building Partnerships to Increase Capacity in Evidence-Based Public Health through the Use of the Guide to Community Preventive Services (2011-2013)

The National Network of Public Health Institutes, in collaboration with the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials and with support from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, provided funding and capacity building assistance to public health institutes and their state, territorial, local, and tribal health department partners to promote the adoption and use of evidence-based approaches outlined in the Guide for Community Preventive Services (<http://www.thecommunityguide.org/>) to address priority public health issues. Basic information about the projects and links to more information is provided below.
